A YANGTZE GRIEVANCE.

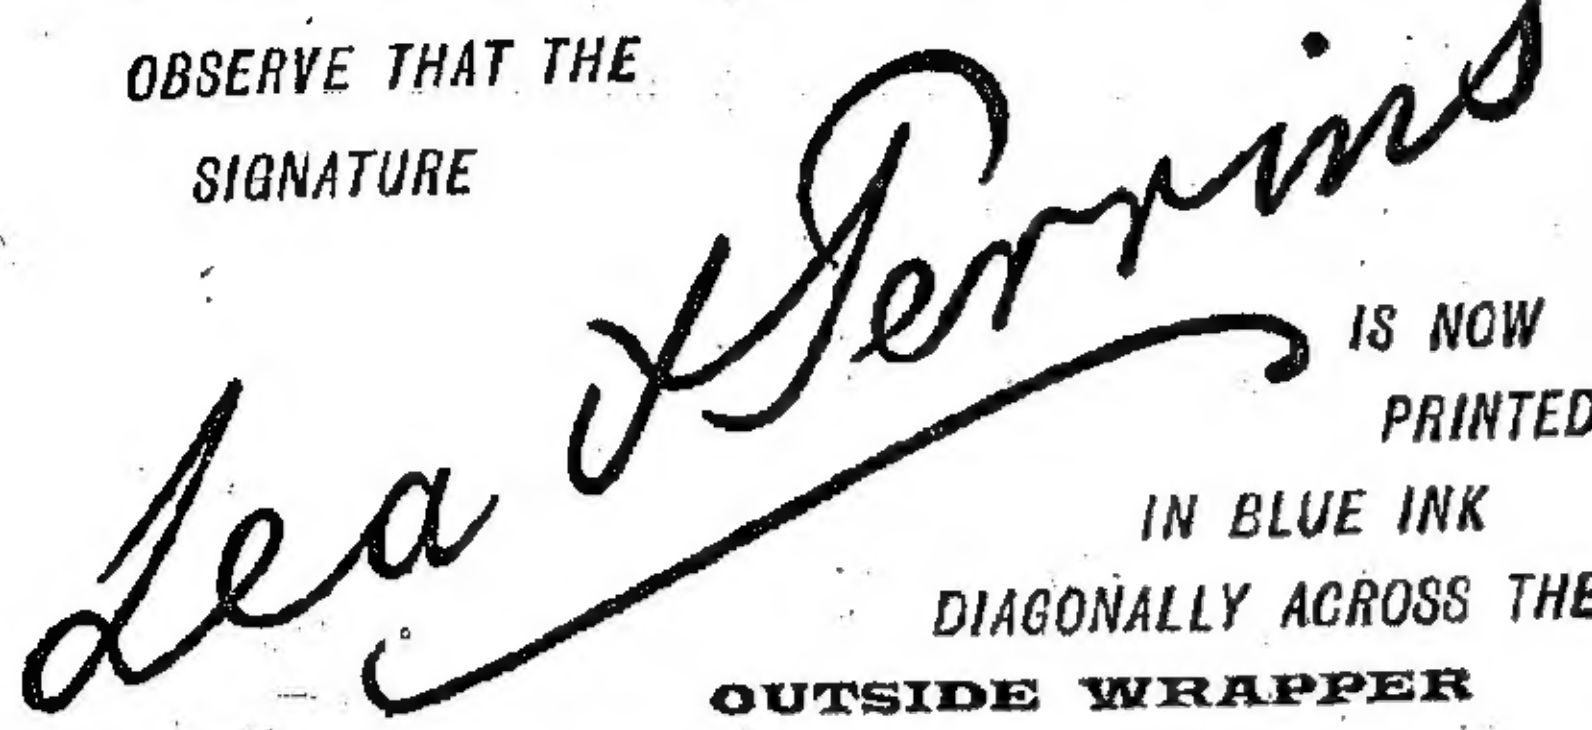

'Observer' writes the following letter to the China Gazette:

DEAR SIR,—At the Court of Enquiry recently held on the Ono disaster, the President, Lieut. Lewis, of H.M.S. Sparrowhawk, very naturally, to have been astonished at the absence of any official supervision over British ships trading out of Shanghai, and the Court in summing up commented very severely on the danger arising from this state of affairs.

There is, however, another point which was not brought before the notice of the Court, but which calls for equally strong condemnation, as it is a standing menace to all ships frequenting Shanghai and the River Ports. I refer to the practice in vogue of allowing ships, under the British flag, to run without any certificate of fitness to carry cargo. Shortly after the loss of the Ono, I called attention, in your columns, to this fact, and also to the injustice of trying the captain of that vessel to decide whether his certificate should be dealt with or not, when other ships are commanded by men who have no certificate at all. Now, again, the same fact has been brought before the notice of the Court, but which calls for equally strong condemnation, as it is a standing menace to all ships frequenting Shanghai and the River Ports. CHLORODYNE

COUGHS,
COLD,
ASTHMA,
BRONCHITIS.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.—DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE (late Army Medical Staff) DISCOVERED A REMEDY, to denote which he coined the word CHLORODYNE. Dr. Browne is the SOLE INVENTOR, and he is the composition of Chlorodyne cannot possibly be discovered by Analysis (organic substances defying chemical analysis), and since the formulae have never been published, it is evident that any statement to the effect that a compound is identical with Dr. Browne's Chlorodyne must be false. This caution is necessary, as many persons deceive purchasers by false representations.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. PAGE WOOD stated publicly in Court that Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE was undoubtedly the INVENTOR OF CHLORODYNE, the whole story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, and he regretted to say it had been sworn to.—See The Times, July 13, 1894.
